Presidents Report

Welcome everyone to a new year. I hope everyone had a great Christmas with family and friends and hope you all will have a very prosperous new year.

Congratulations to all the prize winners at the presentation night. All reports are that it was a good night and the food was well received.

Unfortunately for Warwick Agustin and his wife when they were nearly home they had an unfortunate incident with a kangaroo. I believe Warwick and his wife were shaken but not hurt.

Just a reminder to all members that club membership is now due. A renewal form is available on the web site or in the magazine.

The 12 Hour Motorkhana's previously held in the back area of the pits have had to be cancelled as the council have now sealed all the roads in the camping area and there is no longer any room to stage this event. Instead we will be having a 1 day event on Sunday the 9 February at the Motor Sport Park on College Road. The date for a second one is yet to be decided.

We will be looking for officials for our first events in the year which are Khanacross on the 19 January and a Motorkhana on the 9 February. We also need a secretary for the NSW Hillclimb on the 2/3 March. So if you can help please give me a call.

Everyone should have received their first notification of the Annual General Meeting to held on the 26 February.

The first of our tar events the NSW State Hillclimb Titles will be held on 1/ 2 March so put those dates in your diary and if you are not a competitor come and be an official. For those who were aware of the track licence issue, it has now been sorted.

Unless more members become officials then some events are going to have to be cancelled. This is going to be one of the major problems in 2014. The State Hillclimb Title was nearly cancelled. It was only minutes before the phone call was to be made to advise the panel we could not host the title that someone was found to do the Secretary work.

It is congratulations to Brian Nightingale who is celebrating 50 years in motor sport this year. While on the Nightingale family I am sure we will all be watching his son Terry who is competing in the HQ races during the 12 hour races.

What about the field for the 12 hour race, it is getting better each year and it should be a great race to watch. If you like to get close to the action they are looking for officials. Go to their web site.

Don't forget if you're not busy on the Saturday of the 12 hour week end it is well worth the trip to Orange to the Gnoo Blas Classic car show. One of the best collections of cars you will see this side of the mountains.

2014 AUTOFEST

All roads will again lead to the World renowned Mount Panorama Racing Circuit, Bathurst NSW during the weekend of March 8th and 9th 2014 for the 3rd annual running of the Bathurst Valvoline Autofest.

Organisers of the highly successful Valvoline Autofest Car Festivals have scheduled yet another high-octane event and expect large crowds from across the country to come see the cars fly at Mount Panorama.

The Bathurst Valvoline Autofest will be held in and around the month of March over the next 5 years and will feature events such as Go To Whoa, Autokana, Dyno Comp, Indoor and Outdoor Show N Shine, Super Sprints, Trade Displays and everyone's favourite, the all Mighty Burnout Competition. Online Entry and other related forms are now posted at www.autofest.com.au .

A variety of entertainment is on offer with rides for the kids, merchandise and trade displays. The event is alcohol free, fully catered and is an affordable family day out. Organiser, Di Adams said that the response since the first announcement of the Bathurst Car Festival event had exceeded her expectations.

“We expect entries from most States of Australia and the Bathurst Regional Council and local Bathurst community groups have been fantastic to work with”. Organisers said they anticipated the weekend of horsepower to quickly become one of the most exciting Motor Sport events on the Australian Motorsport Calender.

Events such as the Valvoline Autofest play an important role in regional economies through boosting spend on retail and accommodation.”

A multi media advertising campaign promoting Bathurst Valvoline Autofest will commence shortly, with a focus on TV and Radio in Victoria, New South Wales and Queensland.

Targa Wrest Point

Targa Wrest Point, to be held south of Hobart on February 1 and 2, is set to be the toughest yet in the event's six year history, following a major reworking of the course, adding competitor and spectator appeal.

Bathurst Light Car Club members Mark Hammond and Gordon Lennox in their Hamcon Civil Jaguar XJS will contest the Late Classic class.

The reward for competitors is a greater variety of roads on a course that takes in 193 competitive kilometres across 14 stages.

The new course will also give fans greater access, with the famous Esperance Coast road being used in both directions for the first time, sure to be a hit with the enthusiastic local community at Dover.

Around 100 cars are expected to take part in the event, round three of the CAMS Australian Targa Championship, which starts and ends at Wrest Point on the shores of the Derwent River.

Although some stages are being used twice, no stage will be repeated in the same direction, thereby ensuring the most testing Targa West Point course presented to date.

BUMPER BATHURST 12 HOUR

One of the most successful teams in all of GT racing headlines a full entry list announced for the 2014 Liqui-Moly Bathurst 12 Hour.

Former FIA GT1 World Champions, Vita4One Racing, has entered a two car BMW Z4M GT3 attack on the race this year, joining the strongest field of GT cars ever assembled in Australia.

A full field of 55 cars are entered to compete in the February 7-9 Event – six cars larger than the previous record field (since the return of the race in 2007) of 49 cars set this year.

The pair of Vita4One Racing BMWs will likely race towards the front of an incredibly strong field of GT cars.

The GT3-outright (Class A) field includes reigning Bathurst 12 Hour champions Erebus Motorsport (Mercedes Benz SLS AMG) and 2012 winners Phoenix Racing (Audi R8 LMS Ultra), Australian GT Champions VIP Petfoods Racing (Porsche GT3 Cup R), reigning Spa 24-hour champions HTP Motorsport (Mercedes Benz SLS AMG) a factory-entered Nissan GTR NISMO GT3 and also current-specification GT cars from Ferrari, Lamborghini and Chevrolet.

Vita4One racing, based in Olpe, Germany, won the FIA GT Championship every year between 2006 and 2009 and were world champions in 2010, then running the famous Maserati MC12. Following a brief stint with Ferrari the team switched to BMW Motorsport Z4M GT3s at the beginning of the 2012 season and continues to operate the cars to this day.

Headed by team manager / driver Michael Bartels, the team has been consistently successful in recent years in the FIA GT World Championship, the Blancpain Endurance Series and long-distance races across Europe and the world.

2014 will mark the first time that the team will have competed on Australian soil and just the second time that the popular Z4M will have competed here, following its local debut with Liqui-Moly Team Engstler last year.

2012 Liqui-Moly Bathurst 12 Hour champions Phoenix Racing will return with their Audi R8 LMS Ultra, heading a strong Audi assault as the brand seeks to win a third 12-hour on the Mountain.

The well documented Ferrari attack includes Clearwater Racing, AF Corse, Maranello Motorsport and Vicious Rumour Racing whilst Lamborghini will be well represented with M Motorsport and Roger Lago Racing – Lago having combined with his Bathurst 12 Hour co-drivers David Russell and Peter Cox to finish second in the Sepang 12 Hour earlier this year.

Nissan Motorsport will make a big push with the Australian debut of the GTR NISMO GT3, following on from their successful maiden season in V8 Supercars this year.

Class B (GT3) includes the first non-Carrera Cup appearance of the MY11-specification Porsche 997 GT3 Cup Car, entered by several strong teams including Grove Racing and Rentcorp Motorsport.

American outfit, Competition Motorsports, plus Bathurst 12 Hour favourites Motorsport Services from New Zealand figure amongst the predominantly Porsche-dominated Class.

Popular British team Motionsport will return to the Event in 2014 with their Lotus Exige, having created an impact on the 2013 Event with a brave performance despite difficulties throughout. The British team will battle a Nissan GTR and a New Zealand entered BMW M3 GT4 in Class C (GT4).

The usual diverse array of production-based vehicles will again return, whilst there will likely be several interesting inter-class battles throughout the field.

Three SEAT Leon Supercopa's make up Class E, three works-entered FIAT 500 Abarths will battle in Class F and the unique Marc Focus V8's make their Australian track debut in the final 'invitational' class.

Liqui-Moly Bathurst 12 Hour organisers released an updated race program last week that offers significantly more track time for 12-hour entrants than in previous years.

A one-hour session on Friday morning for cars in Classes C, D, E, F and I will commence at 7:45am and run for a full hour, to be followed immediately by another one-hour session for class A & B cars only.

The two morning sessions will be the first experience for competitors on the brand-new Mount Panorama surface currently being laid by the Bathurst Regional Council workers.

Two one-hour 'all in' practice sessions will be held in the afternoon on Friday to give teams and drivers experience of negotiating the 6.213km circuit with race traffic.

Qualifying will be held over three stages, a one-hour qualifying one to be held on Saturday morning to be followed by a 40-minute session for all cars later in the afternoon. A 15-minute session for Class A (GT3 outright) cars will immediately follow the second session.

The 2014 Liqui-Moly Bathurst 12 Hour commences at 6:15am on Sunday, February 2014. For more information about the Event head to www.bathurst12hour.com.au
